Subject: Update Requested on "Education at Scale: Effective Strategies" Material

Hello Lilia,

Trust you are doing well. I'm reaching out to touch base regarding our last conversation about the "Education at Scale: Effective Strategies" material, which you graciously mentioned you'd share. As per our discussion, we had marked Tuesday as the expected day of sharing, and it's now Thursday.

My promptness in seeking this document stems from a pressing report I am compiling, set to be submitted this coming Friday. This report holds substantial importance as it will undergo scrutiny by our top-level management. The subsequent decisions based on this report will play a pivotal role in determining the financial support for our ongoing initiatives. The information from the "Education at Scale" material is instrumental for me to render this report both thorough and precise.

Would you be able to update me about the whereabouts of the document? Any supplementary details or perspectives you could impart would greatly aid in fortifying our presentation to the leadership team.

I recognize the demands of our daily tasks, and I genuinely value your cooperation on this. A prompt response, considering the tight timeline, would be much appreciated.

Thank you for your swift consideration.

Warm regards,

Moses Yebei,
Product Manager.
